Menlo Park Is Considering City Hall Bond

Financing With Aid of Federal Gov't Aim Of Council

MENLO PARK, Nov. 15.—The Menlo Park City Council last night took steps to call a bond issue for the proposed city hall, for the construction of which the city has filed application for a federal grant and loan totaling $20,000.

Decision to hold the election was not entirely definite, but the balloting, if held, will be in conjunction with the voting on the statewide water proposition in a special election on December 19. An ordinance setting this date was introduced last night by City Attorney George K. Whitworth by the reading of title only.

Under the present fund application Menlo Park is asking for a federal loan under a lease contract arrangement, but it has been indicated by federal officials that such an arrangement is not favored, a bond issue being preferred. If federal funds are received under the present form of application, plans for the bond issue would be dropped.

City Attorney Whitworth, who proposed the calling of the bond election to the council last night, suggested that the issue should be 18-year bonds for a total of $18,000. It would not be necessary to issue all of these bonds if the city should receive a full 30 per cent federal grant, he said.

A communication from the Menlo Park Business Men's Association asked the inclusion of a recreation center in plans for the city hall if possible, but it was pointed out by Mayor W. H. Weeden that the plans have already been submitted to the federal administrator.

Want Licenses Cut

As the result of a petition submitted by that association asking for a 50 per cent reduction in the business licenses, the council will meet next Tuesday evening with a merchants' committee to discuss the proposal. In asking for the license cut, the petition asserted that the budget showed that there would be in excess of a $5,000 balance in the city's general fund next July. The infliction of a 10 per cent penalty for delinquency after 10 days past the first of each quarter and the hiring of a special license collector at a total salary of $300 a year were also protested. A license cut would still leave some $3,000 left as a balance at the end of the year, the petitioners stated.

Some Revenue Needed

Declaring that he would like to see the complete abolition of the business license, Mayor Weeden stated that the council was not trying to build up a big surplus but that the city would have to have a reserve if tax delinquencies this year should prove to be higher. He also asserted that the city would have only $2,000 in its treasury at the end of the year and pointed out that the present chief of police together with the license collector was being paid less than the former chief, who was also charged with license collections.

Councilman E. H. Hart said that he did not think that the police chief was the proper official to collect the licenses. Referring to the budget surplus, Councilman E. J. Crane declared that there were several things in the budget that "were not right."

A. J. Carroll and Jean B. Hoss talked on behalf of the merchants. Both declared that the license was unjust.

When the councilmen said that they were willing to take the matter under consideration, the representatives of the association agreed to name a committee to investigate the matter with the council.

A resolution endorsing the proposal to widen the Bayshore highday underpass at South San Francisco to lessen traffic hazards was adopted by the council at the request of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, which is campaigning for the project.

The Blue Moon dance hall was granted a permit for a dance on Wednesday evening, November 29.

GETS COLLEGE MONEY

Grandmother Remembers Menlo Park Girl

Miss Thelma Morton, 11, of Menlo Park, today is assured of some money for her college education by virtue of the will of her grandmother, Mrs. Ottilia Marecek of San Bruno, who died November 8. Two daughters, Mrs. Frances Dobyns of Weaverville, and Alberta Marecek of San Bruno, are to share the estate with the granddaughter. Mrs. Marecek's estate is less than $10,000. Gilbert Ferrell and Fred Comba represent Mrs. Dobyns, who is named executor.

FLOOD CASE POSTPONED; SEEK CHANGE OF VENUE

Counsel for Defense Trying to Show Public Here Favors Mrs. Gavin

To give the recognized James L. Flood heirs more time in which to complete their fight to take the retrial of Mrs. Constance May Gavin's will contest out of San Mateo county, Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt Wednesday continued the case to December 4.

Attorney John J. Taaffe, chief of counsel for Mrs. Gavin, who claims she is an illegimate daughter of the late Menlo Park mining magnate, made the motion for the continuance, which had been stipulated to by attorneys for both sides.

No objection was made by Attorney William J. Brennan on behalf of Attorney Theodore Roche, chief of counsel for the Floods, as to Judge McNutt's qualifications to sit on the continuance.

Brennan said that Roche waived any disqualifications and consented to allow McNutt to sit in order to prevent the necessity of calling in an outside judge for the brief act of continuing the case.

This, however, applies only to today's continuance. Judge McNutt, because of his previous association with the case as one of Mrs. Gavin's attorneys, is automatically barred from further rights to sit.

Brennan and Taaffe revealed that the Flood heirs are making photostatic copies of newspaper articles and photographs tending to show that public sentiment in San Mateo county strongly favors the Gavin claims.

This evidence, which will be presented about November 22 or 23 in a move for a change of venue, is not yet completed, Brennan said.

Brennan stated that the Floods are seeking a trial in any county of the state where public sentiment on the Flood case is not what it is claimed by them to be in San Mateo county.

Under the law, the case would be transferred to a contiguous county, which would mean Santa Clara, San Francisco or Alameda county. Roche will ask that this restriction be waived and that the case go to a more distant county.

The Flood attorneys are also expected to oppose the naming of any of the judges regularly assigned to this county by the judicial council. This would mean barring judges of Santa Clara, San Benito, Santa Cruz and Monterey counties.

Affidavits in support of the motion for a change of venue will call attention of the court that mobs fought daily for admission to the courtroom; that it was necessary to rope off the corridors because of the intense interest in the trial, and that Superior Judge George Buck, who presided, frequently had to clear the courtroom because of loudly expressed feeling by the spectators.

The conclusion of the trial, it will be stated, ended in a jury revolt and bedlam with shouts of disagreement by the audience and threats against the jurist.

Taaffe said that he would vigorously oppose any move to take the trial out of San Mateo county.

VICTIMS CRUSHED AS CAR RUNS INTO PARKED TRUCK

Men Were Repairing Tail Light; Body Of One Man Decapitated

IN THE bloodiest and most disastrous motor mishap in years—notwithstanding a record of 60 fatalities to date in the past 11 months—three men were sent to untimely deaths last night when an automobile plowed into them as they stood in the rear of a parked truck repairing a tail light.

The accident occurred on the Bayshore highway at Brisbane at 8:45 o'clock Wednesday. The truck had been halted about a half hour three men were sent to untimely deaths Wednesday when an automobile plowed into them as they stood in the rear of a parked truck repairing a tail light.

As the trio complied and were busily engaged in the task, the car of Muggsey Felix McGraw, 47, Tanforan jockey valet and resident of San Francisco, came north on the highway.

McGraw's car struck the three men, decapitating one of them and tearing the bodies of the others asunder.

The truck was hit with such force that its load of apples was shunted clear and the vehicle was pushed ahead some 100 feet.

Francesco Ortega, 34, driver of the truck, and Joseph Romera, 35, both of 1912-A Fifteenth street, San Francisco, were killed outright.

Charles White, 28, of 174-A Dorlan street, San Francisco, was fatally injured and died at 2:30 this morning.

No hope had been held out for White as he was scalped and suffered a fracture of the skull.

Romera was decapitated.

Ortega suffered internal and head injuries that killed him outright.

McGraw, who escaped with a laceration over the left eye, was brought to Redwood City by Capt. Paul Perussina and Kreiss and Walzberg and was booked on a technical charge of manslaughter.

Deputy District Attorney Harold Anderson of District Attorney Edmund Scott's office said that he would probably be charged with manslaughter.

In a statement to Anderson, McGraw said that he was proceeding north on the Bayshore highway at 35 miles per hour. He said he was thoroughly familiar with that section of the road as he had driven over it every day for five years. The weather was clear, according to the officer's report, and McGraw said the lights on his car were good.

"The truck was on the dirt shoulder when I first saw it," McGraw told Anderson. "It seemed to come shooting out of a side road toward me from my right."

The officers said that they had passed the truck twice after ordering the tail light fixed and that it apparently was still in the place where it had originally stopped.

Anderson said that the officers reported to him that the truck was parked approximately five feet off the concrete pavement.

McGraw, when questioned concerning any alcohol which he might have consumed prior to the accident, said that he partook of one glass of sherry wine for breakfast at 10 o'clock that morning. He said he had nothing further to eat or drink during the day.

Ortega is survived by his wife, Maria, and two daughters. White is survived by his wife, Virginia, and has no children. Romera lived with the Ortegas and is survived by his wife, Margaret.

All three bodies were removed to San Francisco. An inquest will be held on Tuesday.

County Roads May Receive New U. S. Aid

Ten road projects in San Mateo county to cost between $5,000 and $6,000 each were under consideration of County Engineer James S. James, Planning Technician Ronald Campbell and County Road Superintendent M. A. Grant today for inclusion in a new federal relief program announced today.

Col. John H. Skeggs, of the San Francisco office of the state highway commission, will select six or eight of the 10 projects and submit them to Earl Lee Kelly, director of the state department of public works.

Kelly will then submit the six or eight projects allotted to this county to the United States Bureau of Public Roads by November 20.

The work will mean four months of employment to San Mateo county's unemployed. A 6-hour day and a 5-day week would be maintained.

Additional work on highway projects, the United Press reported from Sacramento, will be made possible by a new $90,000,000 program designed to provide jobs for 4,000,000 men before January 1. Projects may include drainage facilities, widening of shoulders and curves, fencing rights of way, cleaning streets and trimming trees.

Men would be taken from county relief rolls to fill the jobs. The expense would be snared by federal road funds, 35 per cent, and local federal unemployment relief agencies, 65 per cent. Capt. Edward Macauly is in charge of the San Mateo federal agency.

Because the plan was in its formulative stages, Kelly did not know how much would be allotted California, but predicted it would be approximately $2,000,000.

Thirty-five per cent of the federal money will be used for "other costs," such as machine operation and materials, and 65 per cent will go to labor.

Central Yard For Machinery Is Postponed

Engineer James Makes Vigorous Protest Over Change

San Mateo county's $25,000 central corporation yard and county garage idea, which gave promise of saving $50,000 in road department costs, was blasted by the board of supervisors Monday in a desire to keep a promise on the Daly City bottleneck widening.

The difficulty arises from the failure of the supervisors to place any money in the 1933-34 budget for the bottleneck project.

Juggling of the budget at this late date is made necessary to give $12,500 to the Daly City job. This is half of the money which was set out in the budget for the corporation yard.

The possibility was seen that some taxpayer might attack the transfer of the fund in the courts.

The board created a "special road improvement fund unappropriated" to receive the $25,000 fund. Half of it was then voted out of the fund on motion of Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, and second of Supervisor Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, and placed to the credit of the Daly City project.

County Engineer James S. James made vigorous protest to the change in his plans, stating that none of the $50,000 savings can be made with the central yard idea abandoned.

He asked immediate instructions on which jobs to abandon, mentioning the vital La Honda road as one, as he said that several major jobs would be knocked out by the loss in the savings.

Supervisor John Poole, in whose district the La Honda road lies, and who fought hard for the corporation yard idea during the budget discussions, voted to abandon the idea yesterday when the board gave him what appeared as a weak assurance that nothing would be allowed to stop work on the La Honda road.

James then suggested abandoning the Memorial Park road work near Pescadero, which Supervisor Poole agreed should be done as it was too late in the year for heavy construction. Supervisor Francis, Half Moon Bay, protested, but he joined the others in voting the Daly City funds.

Col. John H. Skeggs of the San Francisco office of the state engineering department, and Joseph J. Phillips, San Francisco right of way agent, made an appeal for the Daly City funds last week.

Slash in Gas Rates Means 11.8 Pct. Here

The reduction in natural gas rates charged by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, as ordered this week by the state railroad commission, will mean an average reduction of 11.8 per cent here, it is estimated.

The annual saving to local consumers, it is believed, will be $13,063.19. This figure is based on the 1932 gross sales to local consumers within the city limits, which amounted to $110,705.

Following are the old and new rates:

Old Rate Schedule

First 5,000 cubic feet at 90 cents.
Next 25,000 cubic feet at 75 cents.
Next 170,000 cubic feet at 60 cents.
Over 200,000 cubic feet at 50 cents.

New Rate Retroactive to July 16

First 200 cubic feet or less at 85 cents.
Next 3,800 cubic feet at 79 cents.
Next 26,000 cubic feet at 61 cents.
Next 170,000 cubic feet at 52 cents.
Over 200,000 cubic feet at 50 cents.

CURTIS WILL FILED

Husband's Relatives Get Nothing From Document

The will of rMs. Sarah Jane Curtis, who died November 8 in San Bruno, was filed for probate here today by John Ringus, San Francisco, disposing of an estate amounting to $1,000. Intentional ommission is made of any relatives of her late husband, Nelson Curtis. Emma Reyen, San Bruno, and Gerd Ringus, San Francisco are to share the estate.

Supervisors Study Law to Curb Drunks

Ordinance Proposed As Aid in Cutting Traffic Toll

Considered an effective weapon in the necessary campaign to curb drunken driving, an ordinance making it a mesdemeanor to be drunk on a public street or in a public building was being studied today by the board of supervisors.

The ordinance was presented by District Attorney Edmund Scott. Its passage was continued for one week by the supervisors.

Scott gave assurance that the ordinance would be enforced "with common sense," after some members of the board appeared to think it was not entirely necessary.

Scott told the board that frequently one or two or more persons are found seated in parked cars along the highways in a drunken condition. As they are not operating the vehicle, they cannot be held under the drunk driving section of the vehicle code.

There is also frequent cases where the driver is arrested for drunkenness but his companion goes scot free.

The district attorney told the board that the ordinance will be an effective means of reducing the number of drunk driving cases and an aid in securing convictions.

Scott said that all peninsula cities have such an ordinance. This new code would be effective in the unincorporated areas of San Mateo county.

The remark was made by one of the supervisors that "people frequently have birthdays which must be celebrated appropriately," expressing the feeling that on such an occasion the ordinance would work a hardship on the convivialists.

The ordinance was continued for one week while the supervisors "think it over."

Sequoia Gay As Grid Win Rally is Held

Sequoia Union High School celebrated its first football championship Monday with a huge rally honoring the team that defeated Palo Alto Saturday in the 14th annual big game at Palo Alto by a score of 6 to 0.

Greater even than the enthusiasm which burst forth in a goal post demonstration after the game was the spirit which prevailed at this week's assembly when the rooters paid tribute to the squads, captains and coaches for breaking a seven-year Palo Alto "jinx."

Coaches Talk

Coaches Leonard Casanova and Albert Terremere and Capt. Harold Kniveton gave short talks, with Capt. Lee Sterling unable to attend because of injuries incurred in the game. The championship 110-pound basketball team and Coach Ray Dimick were also honored.

Speaking of the celebration resulting in the removal of Palo Alto's goal posts after the game, President James D. Hedge of the board of trustees and Sequoia alumnus of '99 said, "I have one regret about the goalpost incident—that I didn't have a hand in pulling them down."

To Pay for Goal Post

Uprooting of the goal post at the north end of the field and the subsequent melee between Sequoia and Palo Alto rooters had a sequel today in a conference between Howard C. Ray, Palo Alto coach and dean of boys, and Donald L. Bogle, dean of boys at Sequoia, at which it was agreed that Sequoia would replace Palo Alto's goal post and a Palo Alto delegation would put back a cross-bar knocked from the Sequoia goal post in a counter-raid at Redwood City following the game.

Ray indicated that Palo Alto's wooden posts would be replaced by structures of iron pipe. He also planned a meeting of peninsula high school student leaders to determine future policy on goal posts—whether they should be pulled down without interference after a game and if so who should stand the expense of putting them up again.

Hart Youth Murdered, Body Thrown In Bay

Cabin Cruiser Drags Bay With Hooks To Retrieve Youth's Corpse

SAN JOSE, Nov. 16 (UP)—Brooke Hart, 22, graduate of the University of Santa Clara, and son of a wealthy family here, was kidnaped and killed last Thursday night by two men, one of whom allegedly confessed to authorities today.

Authorities announced the confession was obtained from Thomas H. Thurmond, arrested last night under the name of Owen. He was said to have implicated J. M. Holmes, an unemployed oil worker of San Jose.

Holmes also was in custody. He was arrested early today.

According to the story, reportedly told by Thurmond and released to the press at the law office of Louis Oneal here, young Hart was seized shortly after he left the Hart Department Store to meet his father, Alex J. Hart, at a country club outside the city.

The kidnapers forced the youth to drive them to an isolated spot on Evans road, where the party changed to another auto, abandoning Hart's car.

The alleged confession said Hart's arms were pinioned to his sides by wire. He was struck on the head with a brick, then on the San Mateo bridge leading from the San Jose side of San Francisco bay to San Francisco, the trussed form was thrown into the water.

Authorities said the purported confession indicated the youth was killed shortly after he was seized and before the lone call for ransom came to the Hart home from San Francisco. Fear of detection was tentatively ascribed as the reason for the slaying.

According to the purported confession Thurmond and his companion then drove into San Francisco where a telephone call was placed to the palatial Hart home. They demanded $40,000 ransom.

The body, authorities said, has not been recovered and dragging operations were begun in the waters near the bridge.

The kidnapers eventually returned to San Jose where Holmes has a wife and two children, David, 6, and Joyce, 5. Thurmond had lived there for about a year, it was said.

FEELING RUNS HIGH

SAN JOSE, Nov. 16 (UP)—An angry crowd formed around the San Jose jail today shortly after it was learned that one of two men under arrest purportedly confessed the kidnaping and killing of Brooke Hart, 22, son of one of the city's most prominent families.

Threats of a lynching were heard. Authorities took steps to protect the prisoner.

PARENTS COLLAPSE

SAN JOSE, Nov. 16 (UP)—Alex J. Hart, father of the slain Brooke Hart, fainted when told that his kidnaped son had been killed.

Max Blum, business competitor and personal friend of the wealthy merchant, broke the news.

Hart was in his room near collapse.

"Alex," said Blum, "your boy is dead."

The elder Hart attempted to speak but could not. Then he fainted. Mrs. Hart collapsed when told her son had been killed, Bloom said.

She had been in a highly nervous state since the kidnaping Thursday night.

Men Will Be Employed On Co. Projects

Several hundred men will soon be employed on the county planning commission projects financed by the federal treasury, it became known today.

The men will be assigned through the office of Capt. Edward Macauley, director of the county unemployment relief.

It is expected that 200 men will find work for three months building trails to beaches on the coastside. The county owns about 7000 feet of beaches aproximately two miles south of Half Moon Bay. The sum of $2500 will be sought from the federal government for incidental expenses and materials.

The second project is to build 36 miles of bridle trails which will throw open much scenic countryside. The planners have easements across private lands, and old country roads will be utilized also. The sum of $2500 for materials will be required.

A third project, calling for improvements in the county Memorial Park, will provide employment for 200 men and require $3000 for materials.

Still another project is for the planting of trees along 16 miles of county roads.

The federal government will pay all the wages of the men. It is understood the scale will be $4.50 per day. The government will also supply housing, food, supervision and tools.

This is a part of the national recovery program, and is made possible through the national forest service and the civil works administration.

Secret Meet Ends in Rap At Morrison

Health Official and Press Barred From Caucus Today

Failure to show a "cooperative spirit" or to "produce the harmonious relations that the charter contemplated" were laid to Dr. Harold E. Morrison, San Mateo county public health officer, in a statement growing out of a secret and special meeting of the board of supervisors Wednesday.

Conferring with the supervisors were members of the charter advisory committee, county medical society, board of health, County Manager Walter T. Kellogg and District Attorney Edmund Scott.

The meeting was held in Kellogg's private offices and the press and the accused health officer were barred.

Dr. Morrison appeared with his secretary, Mary Sooy, and his counsel, Attorney Joseph J. Bullock, but they failed to gain admission to the meeting.

Dr. Morrison charged that he was the victim of an alleged "conspiracy" to oust him.

At the conclusion of the three-hour discussion, which was called for the purpose of considering charges to be preferred against Dr. Morrison in a new ouster move, Dr. C. V. Thompson, chairman of the board, issued the following succinct statement:

"It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that Dr. Morrison, director of public health and welfare, in the conduct of the affairs of his office had not shown a cooperative spirit nor had he produced the harmonious relations that the charter contemplated. A statement now in preparation will be given publicity at the next open meeting of the board of supervisors."

This statement, believed to be the charges which will be the outgrowth of today's discussion, was not enlarged upon by Dr. Thompson, who said he could not reveal what it will contain as he is not a member of the committee working upon it.

The committee, Dr. Thompson said, will be made up of James B. Howell of Atherton as chairman; Matthew B. Harris of Woodside; Dr. Harper Peddicord of Redwood City; Dr. B. H. Page of San Mateo, and District Attorney Scott as legal advisor.

Alterations Ordered for Court House

Plans for alterations on the second floor of the courthouse were approved by the board of supervisors and bids will be called within a few days by Purchasing Agent Ernest Werder.

The plans call for a new law library to be made out of the present public reception room of the district attorney, and for a new jury room and shorthand reporter's room to be made out of the existing public library.

FUNERAL TAKES PLACE

Last Rites Held Here for Late Frank R. Vierra

Funeral services were held Monday for Frank Vierra, 37, who died in the Community Hospital Friday. He lived at 1727 Middlefield road. Interment was in Union Cemetery. He was born in Honolulu.

A son, Benny, and a daughter, Bernice, survive, as do the following sisters and brothers: Bella Busa, Mary Carvalho and Jessie Rodgers, and John, Tony and Manuel Vierra.

Hart Slugged With Brick, Says Youth

Body Bound, Tossed In Bay, Suspect Recites

SAN JOSE, Nov. 16 (UP) — A verbatim copy of the purported confession of Thomas Harold Thurmond in the kidnaping and slaying of Brooke Hart was made public by department of justice agents this afternoon. It follows, in part:

"I, Thomas Harold Thurmond, voluntarily make this statement to R. E. Vetterli, Edward E. Conroy, Harold E. Anderson, special agents of the United States Department of Justice, and to William Emig, sheriff of Santa Clara county; J. M. Black, chief of police of San Jose and Earle G. Hamilton, deputy sheriff, that I have known Jack Holmes approximately one year in San Jose, that approximately five or six weeks ago he approached with a plan to kidnap Brooke Hart and hold him for ransom.

"We discussed this matter on one or two occasions and on Thursday, November 9, 1933, shortly before 6 o'clock p. m., Jack Holmes and I saw Brooke Hart come to the parking lot where he parks his roadster. Jack Holmes and I previously discussed just how we would kidnap Hart. Jack was to get in the car as it approached Market street and I was to follow in a Chevrolet coach belonging to Jack Holmes.

"On this particular night of November 9, 1933, Brooke Hart obtained his car from the parking lot and drove out the driveway toward Market street. Jack Holmes met the car and opened the door with one hand and had his other hand in his pocket as though he had a gun. He forced Hart to go away with him. I was parked in Jack Holmes' Chevrolet coach off Market street close to Post street, and as Brooke Hart drove by I followed the car.

"In accordance with my prearranged instructions with Jack Holmes, as soon as I saw him pass me I drove to Milpitas and waited for them at the Spangler garage. Shortly thereafter, Jack Holmes and Brooke Hart drove by in the roadster. I followed the Studebaker to a point on the Evans road about seven miles from San Jose. When they stopped the car at a point on the Evans road they both got out and Jack Holmes ordered Brooke Hart to get in the back seat of the coach which I was driving. We then drove a short distance ahead, when Jack Holmes, who was now driving the coach, turned the car around and headed back to Milpitas, with Hart in the back seat.

I was sitting at the right of Jack Holmes. After reaching Milpitas we turned north and drove through Irvington to Alvarado and then to the San Mateo bridge. We stopped about a half mile out on the San Mateo bridge, at which time Hart was ordered out of the car and Jack Holmes walked to the rear of the car and hit Hart over the head with a brick which I had obtained at a cement company in San Jose before we started on the trip.

"Then I took some bailing wire from the car which I had previously purchased on the afternoon of the 9th of November, 1933, at a hardware store in Santa Clara, for 55 cents, and bound the arms of Brooke Hart around his body up close to his shoulder. Jack Holmes then told me to get hold of him—Jack Holmes took hold of the upper part and I took hold of him from his knees down and together we lifted Hart up to the railing of the San Mateo bridge and tossed him into the bay. I recall as we lifted him up onto the bridge he struggled slightly."

Victim of Stabbing Taken to Hospital

DALY CITY, Nov. 13.—Dan Riley, 56, was in the South San Francisco Hospital with serious abdominal wounds and Mike Kelly, 48, was held by local police today, following a quarrel between the pair last night. Riley was stabbed.

Police said Kelly had been drinking. Both men, according to police, are laborers and reside in Millbrae.

Colma Couple Wins $500 for Son's Loss

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Filippi of Colma were awarded $500 for the death of their son, Joseph Filippi Jr., and the cost of funeral expenses, by the San Jose City Council today. The boy was drowned in the city's Alum Rock pool last September. Similar treatment was accorded Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cronin of San Francisco, whose son, George, was also drowned at the same time.

Adult Education

During the last school year 316,000 California adults, seeking to improve themselves educationally and to better their citizenship, enrolled in special day and evening high school classes. This figure represents an increase in attendance in adult education classes during the last six years of over 300 per cent, or from an attendance of 49,000 in 1925-26 to the present figures of 316,000.

As attendance has increased costs have increased so that last year the adult phase of California's educational system represented over $2,000,000. As with all other phases of public expenditure the schools have during the period of depression come in for critical review, considerable discussion centering on the problem of adult education and its cost.

In a comprehensive analysis of the entire subject of adult education, Dr. Elmer H. Staffelbach, professor of education at the San Jose State Teachers' College and eminent research scholar, writing in the November issue of the Sierra Educational News comes to the following conclusion:

"Any planned educational program will have to place a primary dependence upon the education of childhood and youth. Nevertheless, the education of adults will always be a necessary part of such a program. Education of childhood and youth, which antedates the time of contact with social control by a quarter of a century, cannot be sufficient to meet the requirements of a changing society."

Until very recent times adult education in this country has been largely left to private enterprise, the American public school growing up under the theory that free education furnished by the public was only for the childhood and youth of the land. Largely since the World War, however, the American people, particularly in certain states such as California, are beginning to take a new view with regard to the education of adults.

The old theory that if an adult citizen wishes to improve his education he should pay the costs is being given up as socially short-sighted, its place being taken by the broader view that whatever brings legitimate benefits to the individual will result in consequent benefits to society and that therefore adult training becomes an obligation upon society.

Upsetting Tammany

Newspapers throughout the country are hailing the victory of LaGuardia for the mayorship of New York City as an event of national importancee. By defeating Tammany he has put that organization on the defensive for the first time in years. But his election is more than an upset to Tammany. It is a prophecy of better conditions in politics.

On the same day that he was elected the voters ousted the Vare machine in Philadelphia, the Mellon organization in Pittsburgh and elected a more liberal board of supervisors in San Francisco. From one end of the country to the other there is a demand for liberalism, freedom from boss domination and a return to efficiency in government.

The American people have at last awakened to the necessity of better government.

Coast Freight, Passenger Line Permit Sought

Application has been filed with the railroad commission by the Coastside Transport Company for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate (1) passenger, freight and express services between San Francisco and Santa Cruz via the so-called "Coast Route;" (2) passenger and freight service between Redwood City and San Gregorio via La Honda with no local service between Redwood City and Woodside; (3) freight and express service between San Mateo and certain points north and south of Half Moon Bay; (4) express service between San Francisco and La Honda; (5) right to operate detour service of loaded freight trucks between San Francisco and Half Moon Bay via peninsula highway and San Mateo; (6) right to operate an "on call" service within five miles of either side of the highway traversed, south of Colma.

Authority is also requested to issue 20,075 shares of capital stock of the company to be used in purchasing motor trucks and equipment.

The operating rights that the company seeks are identical with those of the Coastside Transportation Company, which has filed a petition in bankruptcy, and which the application states has discontinued business.

Disaster Call Finds Units Of City Alert

Demonstration Held Under Auspices of Red Cross

"All we need now is a major disaster—and we hope we won't have one," said Fire Chief Mark Ryan today, following the demonstration put on Saturday evening by the newly formed disaster relief organization sponsored by the Red Cross. Chief Ryan headed the organization work.

While hundreds of townspeople looked on, more than a score of units reported to the temporary headquarters on Broadway, between Main and Walnut streets, following the turning in of the major disaster alarm by Mayor William J. Dusel.

One by one the units were announced by Councilman Charles G. Lambert. Chief of Police C. L. Collins and his officers directed the traffic as the units were assigned parking places.

From a special telephone, Mayor Dusel then made "emergency" calls to the fire departments of San Carlos, Menlo Park and Woodside. These responded with men and equipment, and joined the local firemen in a demonstration of what could be expected in the event of a major conflagration.

After the main program, the Redwood City firemen put on a spectacular exhibition of ladder work and other life-saving drills.

Commending the demonstration, Mayor Dusel today gave out the following statement:

"Following the splendid demonstration of preparedness as evidenced by the fine spirit of cooperation between the various units both from Redwood City and from the adjoining cities, I wish to express my appreciation, personally and as Mayor of Redwood City, to all of those who helped to make the major disaster call on Saturday night a success.

"Numerous expressions of surprise and commendation have been heard from our citizens and from visitors who witnessed the demonstration as to the promptness and efficiency displayed on that occasion and I again wish to heartily thank those who took part."

Organizations participating in the big event were:

City officials.
National and local Red Cross officials.
Police department, Chief C. L. Collins.
Fire department.
Street department.
Water department.
Sewer department.
Layng ambulance service.
James Crowe ambulance service.
American Legion.

Medical profession.
General Petroleum Corporation.
Spanish-American War Veterans.
Yomecans.
Motorcycle aid, J. Oliver.
San Carlos Fire Department.
Menlo Park Fire Department.
Woodside Fire Department.

The demonstration also called attention to the Red Cross roll call, which began on Armistice Day. Dr. W. H. Taylor is chairman of the roll call.

MERCHANTS' CHRISTMAS PARTY TO BE DEC. 7TH

Santa Claus will arrive in Redwood City with all the gusto of former years on Thursday evening, December 7, when Redwood City merchants will stage their annual Christmas party and open house.

Plans were made at a meeting of merchants held at the chamber of commerce offices.

Two thousand boxes of Christmas candy will be brought by old Santa and his reindeers to please every little boy and girl in Redwood City, up to 10 years of age.

The candy will be distributed on Broadway, between Middlefield road and Hamilton street.

A treat will be in store for everyone who is over Santa's age limit, as shops will have their windows and interiors gayly decorated in Christmas attire and hold open house. It is expected that many Christmas gifts will be selected on this big evening. Stocks will be complete and Redwood City merchants are out to prove to the people that they can supply them with every possible Christmas gift that they might think of.

A beautiful silver loving cup will be presented by The Tribune to the merchant with the outstanding Christmas windows and store interior. The competition is limited to retail merchants. The awards will be based on originality, sales appeal and attractiveness and will be judged by professional window decorators from other peninsula communities.

Menlo Park

The Menlo Chamber of Commerce gave a turkey banquet on Monday evening, November 13, 1933, in the auditorium of the Central school on the highway at Menlo Park, in the interest of water conservation in San Mateo and Santa Clara counties and rapid transportation and commuters' service down the peninsul, with a record attendance of nearly one hundred and fifty persons.

Mr. J. H. Sullivan, president, gave a short resume of the work of the chamber of commerce and its program for the coming year, covering the use of Hetch-Hetchy pure water for general supply and the impounding of water in reservoirs to permit its return to the underground strata for use of farms and gardens through wells; more frequent service and the same fast service planned for the east bay cities; and development of Redwood City harbor and industrials along the bay front.

Mr. W. H. Weeden, mayor of Menlo Park, assisted in welcoming the guests.

The principal speaker of the evening was Congressman J. J. McGrath, who spoke of the earlier transportation facilities down the peninsula in contrast with the present service, and urged concerted action for the changes needed to compete with the trans-bay cities in the completion of the bridges across the bay. He also outlined what the government planned in naval construction at Sunnyvale and fleet service on the Pacific front.

Mr. E. B. Hinman, county clerk of San Mateo county, spoke of the benefits of chamber of commerce work and urged the backing of the community in its service.

In a detailed outline of the necessity of rapid transportation service down the peninsula to compete with the fast lightweight cars planned to be put on across the bridges now being built across the bay, Mr. Winfield Scott gave a very interesting talk, with suggestions for the use of the present facilities, and as a most important part of this planning, a downtown terminal, carrying the trains to Market street.

The Southern Pacific Company was represented by a group of officials. Mr. George Hanson told of the willingness of the company to co-operate in any possible plans.

The guests enthusiastically applauded the various speakers and the affair proved enjoyable and instructive.

Mayor W. H. Weeden and Chief of Police Thomas Kearney attended a luncheon given by the Peace Officer's Association of Northern California in Palo Alto Wednesday.

The ladies of Trinity Episcopal Guild will hold a food sale in a vacant store on Santa Cruz avenue Saturday at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Thomas Furman is chairman of the annual Red Cross roll call. Working with her are Mrs. Isabelle Lindquist, Mrs. Margaret Gale, Mrs. Gordon Boles, Mrs. C. T. Maloney, Mrs. Thomas Cuff, Mrs. C. A. Synerson, Mrs. Dora M. Davidson, Miss Meta Kugeler, Mrs. J. B. Howell, Miss Elsie Werthman, and Mrs. Jerry Anthony.

Mrs. Peter Bush supervises the work and gives instructions in garment making and mending in the local Red Cross headquarters where 30 dependent women have been provided with work—3,000 yards of material has been made into clothing—1,057 pairs of sox and stockings, 103 pairs of blankets and a dozen comforters, 500 men's shirts, 30 play suits, 250 sweaters, and 150 suits of underwear as well as 500 families provided with food, clothing, medical attention, medical supplies and other necessities is the record Menlo Park chapter has since its organization 12 months ago.

The regular monthly afternoon card party which the American Legion Auxiliary gives in Legion Hall the first Friday of each month has been postponed to a later date in December. On Friday and Saturday, December 1 and 2 the auxiliary will hold their bazaar.

The Parent-Teacher Association corn beef and cabbage dinner will be served in Central School auditorium Thursday, November 23 from 5 to 7:30 p. m.

A card party will be given by Los Lomitas Parent-Teacher Association Friday, November 17 at 8 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mrs. W. W. MacDonald and Mrs. Louis Rothenberg and Mrs. C. A. Guglielmoni and Mrs. Walter Gamboni will sell refreshments.

Friends of Mrs. Carroll A. Devol were sorry to learn that she has had a serious trouble with a badly infected tooth which had to be extracted. At present Mrs. Devol is at Fort Leavenworth where her young granddaughter, Lucille Brett, was thrown from her horse, breaking both bones in her right arm just above the wrist. She had to have the big bone broken and reset and is still in the hospital.

The old Casey building on Oak avenue, one of the landmarks of the town, was razed this week by direction of the city council. The ancient structure was erected in the seventies by the late William Casey who came to Redwood City in the sixties. For many years the building was used as a saloon where the farmers came in the early days to quench their thirst. Since pre-war days W. T. Casey conducted a plumbing shop there. The old stand is gone but the memories that clustered around it will linger on.

The owners of the Maloney block on the highway have been notified by the United States Postal Department that their site has been accepted for the new postoffice building. The 160 feet from Derry's fuel and feed yard to the M and M restaurant on which there are a number of old buildings are to be razed and replaced by one large structure containing a number of stores and the postoffice. It will cost approximately $20,000 and the owners plan to have it completed by April 1 of next year. The old buildings are to be removed to the Maloney estate back of Holy Cross Cemetery comprising 40 acres which will be made a picnic grounds. A feature of the pleasure park will be a mammoth swimming pool. These improvements are certainly welcomed by the residents of Menlo Park They are sure to stimulate business and bring other industries.

The Dombey property, consisting of 40 acres on Santa Cruz avenue, just outside the city limits, and known as the Peppers, formerly the property of the late C. W. Smith, has been leased to Abdul Mohomed Cutet for an Egyptian gardens. Many hundreds of dollars will be expended in beautifying the place and remodeling the old home. Mr. Cutet asserts that the gardens will be the finest and most attractive of any in the state. He recently conducted a resort in Denver.

Father Bernard Burke, assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity for the past three and one-half years, has been assigned to St. Agnes Church in San Francisco and will be succeeded by Father Gleason, now taking a special course at St. Patrick's Seminary. Father Burke at the 10:30 mass last Sunday made the first announcement of the change and took the occasion to thank the parishioners for their kindness to him during his stay. He also paid a tribute to Pastor Father Kennedy for the manner in which he has been treated and his kind consideration at all times. On Wednesday evening the people of the parish tendered Father Burke a farewell reception in the Hall of the Nativity that was neatly decorated and was colorful in green and gold. About one hundred sat at the banquet table. George Walsh presided and in opening the program paid Father Burke a nice tribute. Father Kennedy in his address also spoke glowingly of the young priest. Father Casey of Palo Alto spoke of the friendship with the young priest and said that Father Burke would always keep fresh in memory his first assignment in Menlo Park to which place he came after his ordination from St. Patrick's Seminary. Father Burke was brief in his address, simply thanking the people of Menlo Park for their kindness to him and again acknowledging his debt of gratitude to Father Kennedy for his friendship. The musical portion of the program was much enjoyed as well as the tap dancing by a group of youngsters. Father Burke carries with him to his new field of endeavor the very best wishes of the people of the community.

Federal Labor Camp for Co. Is Considered

District Forester Frank Thompson of Palo Alto informed the San Mateo County Supervisors Monday that a federal labor camp has been allotted to this county if wanted. The camp would be for homeless men over 21. The pay would be 50 cents a day, plus food, shelter and medical care.

The planning commission, in the belief that San Mateo county would get a lot of trail and other forest work at a minimum of cost, recommended establishment of the camp.

Capt. Edward Macauley and County Manager Walter Kellogg reported, however, that some "confusion" exists as to whether the camp has actually been awarded to the county or not.

Thompson assured the supervisors, however, that the camp has been allotted. The proposed location would be in Memorial Park.

San Mateo county has been allotted 55 men for the federal camp.

The expense, Thompson said, will be to assume the cost of compensation insurance and overhead for the camp management.

The board delayed action one week pending a report from Captain Macauley, director of unemployment relief.

Red Cross Unit Faces Big Task In Menlo Park

As an indication of the need for Red Cross help in that district, the Menlo Park branch of the national relief organization reports that there were 16 calls for aid in the one hour period between 11 and 12 o'clock last Friday morning. Funds to meet these and all the other appeals are being solicited in Menlo Park during the annual Red Cross Roll Call, which started on Armistice Day.

Mrs. Thomas Furman is chairman of the campaign. Working with her are Mrs. Isabelle Lindquist, Mrs. Margaret Gale, Mrs Gordon A. Boles, Mrs. C. T. Maloney, Mrs. Thomas Cuff, Mrs. C A. Syverson, Mrs. Dora M. Davidson, Miss Meta Kugeler, Mrs. J. B Howell, Miss Elise Werthman and Mrs. Jerry Anthony.

In the 12 months since its organization, the Menlo Park branch has made up 3000 yards of material into clothing; distributed 1,057 pairs of stockings and sox, 103 pairs of blankets and a dozen comforters, 500 men's shirts, 30 play suits, 250 sweaters, and 150 suits of underwear; assisted 500 families with food, clothing, medical supplies, medical care, wood, and other necessities; provided sewing for 30 dependent women at the workrooms, where Mrs. Peter E. Bush not only supervises the work but also gives instructions in garment-making and mending; served as a distribution center for articles made by the Las Lomitas Central School and Portola Parent-Teacher Associations, the National Council of Catholic Women, and Trinity Episcopal Guild. Seven layettes were provided by the Catholic group and 20 pairs of pajamas by Trinity Guild.

Red Cross headquarters in Menlo Park are open Tuesdays and Fridays from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Miss Harper Talks To Pupils on Books

In observance of book week at the McKinley Intermediate School, Miss Wilhelmina Harper of the Redwood City Public Library spoke to girls and boys of the school on Wednesday on the use of special book lists which she has prepared for those in the seventh and eighth grades.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 the low seventh grade will present a book parade entitled "Children of Other Lands," an original playlet, under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Genasci.

Parents and friends of the McKinley school students are cordially invited to attend the program.

Harbor Funds Facing Delay In Washington

Optimistic reports given by Congressman John J. McGrath on the immediate prospects of federal funds for Redwood Harbor were somewhat set back today by a report from Washington that California and two other Pacific coast states would get no new funds for several months.

Congressman McGrath spoke on the harbor last week before the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. He said the harbor project was at the moment before the public works board and that the chances were good that Redwood City would come in for its third federal grant shortly.

Two previous grants last week gave $5,000 toward the Emerald Lake water system extensions, and $66,600 toward the new postoffice.

The congressman told the chamber of commerce that he believed the expenditure of about $300,000 would be approved, with 30 per cent to come as an outright gift to this area.

Urges Second Harbor

He urged that a second harbor development be undertaken on the peninsula at South San Francisco. He said $40,000 has been approved for dredging San Bruno shoals.

The Redwood Harbor project has a big advantage in Washington over San Jose's proposal, McGrath said, as San Mateo county has formed a district and Santa Clara county has not.

McGrath said he has been asked to introduce a bill in the next congress whereby 750 acres would be added to the Sunnyvale naval station. The congressman reported that the Goodyear corporation, builders of the giant Macon and the ill-fated Akron, are seeking a site just north of the air station and east of Mountain View.

McGrath told the chamber of commerce members that initiative for a new postoffice at South San Francisco must come from them rather than himself. He said if he took the leadership he would be accused of "pork barreling." McGrath said he would push the project once it gets started.

Transportation Problem

The congressman declared that the transportation problem of the peninsula was a serious one. He called the trolley service between San Francisco and San Mateo "a joke." He said the Southern Pacific service was good, but that an uptown terminal was needed in San Francisco.

The South San Francisco chamber named a committee of five to push the post office matter, and also decided to ask the city council to place several bond proposals before the voters December 19. One would be for $15,000 for a new ladder truck, and another for $50,000 for sewer developments.

Garbage Plan At Mills Field Told to Public

An attempt to have the audience approve a resolution against San Francisco's plans to dump garbage at Mills Field was unsuccessful last night at a public hearing in the Burlingame City Hall.

The resolution was proposed by Walter W. Cribbins and H. F. Collier, Burlingame residents, who opposed the garbage plan on the ground that it would be a menace to health.

The San Mateo County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Asociations went on record in favor of allowing the dumping of the garbage at Mills Field on the ground that it was vital to the interests of the county to keep the airport as a major coast terminal.

Clyde Healy, assistant San Francisco engineer, Dr. A. B. Crowley of the San Francisco Health Department, and M. B. Doolin, superintendent of Mills Field, spoke in support of the proposal.

The three pointed out that the airport is a $1,000,000 asset to San Mateo county, but has not cost the county one cent. The garbage fill method, Healy said, would not be used at the airport and jeopardize this investment if it was objectionable.

The board of supervisors will have the permit application for the garbage disposal before it next Monday.

McNutt Rules Kellogg Free Of Contempt

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt Monday dismissed an order directed at County Manager Walter T. Kellogg to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for refusing to be sworn for the taking of his deposition in the Manders-Fortier ouster proceedings.

Judge McNutt sustained the position of Kellogg's attorneys, Morgan J. Doyle and John W. Coleberd, that "there is no authority in law for taking of the deposition."

No court order for the taking of the deposition had been asked or issued, and Kellogg therefore could not be held in contempt, Judge McNutt declared, as such a step was premature.

Kellogg said after the hearing that he will answer any questions if the court orders him to make the deposition.

Doyle asked a week's continuance of the hearing on the demurrer by Kellogg to the second amended complaint filed by Manders, and also a week's delay on the motion to strike portions of the complaint.

THIRSTY THIEF

BURLINGAME, Nov. 16. — Six bottles of whisky, two of wine and two of champagne were stolen by a thirsty thief who entered the Miller Drug Co. store at 1200 Burlingame avenue last night.

The thief gained access to the liquor by means of the skylight in the roof.

PASTOR RAPS CONDITIONS IN TALK TO LODGE; ASKS 'WHAT IS MATTER WITH S. M. CO.?'

Speaking at an Armistice Day memorial before the Knights of Pythias of Redwood City, Norman W. Pendleton, pastor of the Congregational Church, said in part:

"There are two kinds of patriotism. War-time patriotism and peace-time patriotism. National patriotism and patriotism in your own pasture!

"History records that the nation lacking peace-time patriotism falls, no matter how glorious the military annals.

"'America is in danger,' writes Charles E. Jefferson. 'The economic depression is paralleled by a moral slump which has carried us almost to the depravity that preceeded the fall of the Roman Empire.'

"Signs of degeneration are splattered all over the pages of the newspapers.

"Surely it is time for the preacher to speak and speak fearlessly, for if our civilization is to be saved, it will not be by economic adjustment alone (much as economic adjustment is needed) but, also, by something more fundamental—a return to moral soundness and integrity.

"A beautiful flower cannot bloom on a decayed stem. A strong nation cannot stand on a rotten foundation.

"Innocents are being murdered on the highway by unsocial drunken drivers. (All honor to the judge who dares to pronounce a jail sentence)."

Calling for a new crusade to save America from vice, corruption and graft which has invaded the cities and states of the land, Mr. Pendleton said:

"Of course if we are to get down to brass tacks and not simply orate, we must turn our attention to the home base.

"It is not our job to rescue New York or Chicago from the hands of the modern saracen. We are citizens of San Mateo county. We must needs begin our crusade at home.

"What is the matter with San Mateo county?

"We live in a peninsular paradise. There is no other spot in California the equal of it. Yet our county has an unsavory reputation throughout the state. Largely undeserved, I believe. But, there must be some reason for it.

"It is a common saying in the bay cities that 'San Mateo county is the moral garbage can of San Francisco.' Some San Francisco politicians seem to think that the easy way to solve their moral problems is to dump them over the county line.

"Why should the splendid citizens of this glorious peninsula stand for conditions that San Francisco does not want and will not stand for?

"What is the matter with San Mateo county?

"I have lived in many spots about the bay, and I soberly say that San Mateo county offers the most wonderful climate, the most glorious scenic setting, the most ideal natural living conditions of any residental area in all of glorious California.

"Then why do more San Franciscans take their families to Alameda county?

"'Transportation,' you say. That's only part of the story, a real part which should be changed. But, listen to the rest of the story. Hundreds of San Franciscans have the impression that Alameda county is a better place to raise children—better morally!

"I do not believe that that impression is justified. Nevertheless, there it is.

"Something must be done about it.

"The citizens have tried to do something about it. They voted a new charter, designed to set up a new type of county government. An ideal for counties all over the nation; hoping to create a new and finer reputation; hoping to remove any undeserved stigma.

"And yet, judging by newspaper reports and editorials, it would seem that some of our county politicians are determined to do everything in their power to defeat the will and spoil the hope of the voters.

"Perhaps it is time to serve notice on the men who are supposed to be our political servants, that they must carry out, not only the letter but, also, the spirit of the charter adopted by a vote of the people, or else, the people will carry the politicians out, at the next election.

"Any elected official in this county who does not favor the new charter, will, if he be a gentleman, resign his office, saying, 'I do not like the charter, but the people do, therefore I will step out of the way and give some friend of the charter an opportunity to work it out in harmony with the expressed will of the voters.' We would all honor such a resignation, and say, 'There speaks a real man and a patriot'."

Yomecans to Work For Red Cross Roll

Plans for canvassing their territory in the annual Red Cross roll call were completed by members of the Redwood City Yomecan Club at their meeting Monday night in Hotel Sequoia. John Christ is Red Cross chairman for the Yomecans.

November 27 was announced as the date of the annual past president's night, at which a program will be presented under the direction of Edward L. Greeley.

Edward Williams and John Christ were formally welcomed into the membership of the club by Past President Norbert Lambert.

SUMMONS
No. 22619

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO.

ARIBELLE P. FRANKLIN, Plaintiff, vs. CHARLES E. FRANKLIN, Defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of San Mateo; and the complaint filed in said County of San Mateo in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA SEND GREETINGS TO:
CHARLES E. FRANKLIN, Defendant

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of San Mateo, and answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within said county, if served elsewhere within thirty days.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to so appear and answer, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint as arising upon contract, or will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

Witness my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of San Mateo, this 27th day of October, A. D. 1933.

Man's Body Is Found in Pool, Bayshore City

Victim of a murder of accident, Walter Jaap, 35, of 305 Oriente street, Bayshore City, was found dead Sunday by neighbors in a pasture two blocks from his home.

Deputy Coroner Silvio Nieri reported to Sheriff James J. McGrath that Jaap had died of suffocation and that his skull was fractured.

The body was lying in a pool of water, Nieri reported, but no water had been taken into the lungs.

Jaap, who is reported to have been receiving county aid, was last seen alive Saturday by Police Chief John Ford, who declared Jaap was intoxicated at the time.

The possibility that Jaap fell over a large rock and knocked himself unconscious was seen

Witt Clashes With James in Road Dispute

Declaring County Engineer James S. James' reported attitude "tantamount to insubordination," Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, foe of the engineer, Monday demanded that the supervisors request a report from the planning commission as to the value of a proposed School street unit in Daly City.

Witt has asked that School street be extended from the Skyline boulevard to Junipero Serra boulevard in order to open up an area known as "the $75 Homestead."

James said that the road "by the widest stretch of imagination" has no merit; that it runs through a private ranch and "dead ends in a barnyard."

The engineer said that there is "no necessity or excuse for the road."

Witt, however, does not agree and declared that he believes the engineer was ignoring the proposed lateral because of spite for criticisms he has hurled in the past.

James declared that the county has no rights of way for the road, but Witt declared it has owned them for years.

The matter was referred to the planning commission for study and a report as requested by Witt.

Witt also made a demand on the board that the citizens' projects committee headed by Sam D. Merk, San Mateo, give a detailed report showing what work has been done in the unincorporated area of the First Township for comparison with other sections.

The supervisor has charged that his district is being discriminated against by those selecting the projects.

TRANSIT PROBLEMS ARE AIRED AT LOCAL MEETING

Transportation problems to be met by the completion of the San Francisco bay bridges and affecting the peninsula were discussed at a special meeting in the courthouse here Monday night.

The meeting was called by the transportation committee of the San Mateo County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Associations, with W. H. Morrissey, Redwood City attorney and president of the clubs, presiding.

Col. John H. Skeggs of the state highway commission and Assistant City Engineer Clyde Healy of San Francisco outlined the progress made thus far in creating proper approaches to the bridges from all of the leading peninsula highways.

Skeggs and Healy reported that every peninsula highway, namely, El Camino Real, Bayshore, Skyline, Junipero Serra and Ocean Shore, will be worked into the plan to speed motorists to and from the bridges and peninsula points.

Maps were displayed showing the proposed approaches through San Francisco.

Need of speeding motoring traffic to the peninsula were stressed as only by proper highway connections will San Mateo county hold its own against the competition of the Marin and Eastbay shores.

Attending the meeting were:

E. J. Holl, vice-chairman of the committee, and Robert Hamilton of the Beresford Park Citizens' League; Paul Lyman of the Ravenswood Chamber of Commerce; Gilbert Keitle, secretary of the San Mateo chamber; R. N. McLean of the California Automobile Club.

C. R. Scott of County Engineer James S. James' office; Fred Metcalf of the Peninsula Grade Crossing Conference; Joseph Brodie, president of the San Carlos Community Club.

C. W. Bowman of the Redwood City Promotion Association; Mrs. Mona Christensen, and C. H. Steere of North Palo Alto.

Robert N. Jones, Redwood City councilman and member of the Greater Redwood City Improvement Association; John Harkness, Redwood City Civic Club; Ted Huggins, Redwood City; George H. Chiossi of the San Mateo Heights Improvement Club; E. J. Elliott of San Francisco, and Eugene C. Signarowitz, of the Eastside Improvement Club of San Mateo.

Another meeting, to which all civic bodies will be invited, will be held in the courthouse November 27.

$7500 Judgment Awarded Against Mrs. Rothschild

Louis E. Smith, 267 San Jose avenue, San Francisco, and his wife, Thelma, Monday held a $7500 judgment against Mrs. Cora Rothschild, wealthy and socially prominent San Francisco woman, as the result of a motorcycle-automobile accident on the Woodside road April 24.

The award was made by a jury in Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt's court. In a previous trial before Superior Judge Franklin Swart on September 21, a jury disagreed. Norman S. Menifee was counsel for the plaintiff.

Brush Fire at Woodside Put Out By Dep't

WOODSIDE, Nov. 13.—The extended alarm which yesterday morning at 6:40 called the Woodside Fire Department to extinguish a bad brush fire on the Old La Honda road was thought to be the result of negligence on the part of woodcutters who had been clearing land. No damage was done as the firemen controlled the flames before they could spread to adjoining areas. This fire, the first brush fire in the Woodside district for the 1932-1933 season has broken the district's record, as the lowest number of brush fires in any previous year was 31 alarms. Chief Volpiano wishes to stress the fact that although the so-called fire season is over anyone wishing to burn brush must notify the fire department before doing so as many unnecessary alarms result from careless late season burning, thereby causing added expense to the department.

Instructions on License Renewals Given Motorists

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 16.—A bulletin issued today by the department of motor vehicles informed motorists of California it will not be necessary for them to secure tax clearances on their vehicles from city and county assessors on applications for 1934 license plates made prior to March 5, next.

While a new state law requires applicants for registration to submit such clearances with their applications it is not effective until March 5 and, therefore, will not affect the bulk of the motorists during the coming renewal season, beginning January 2.

Registrar Russell Bevans announced the department would begin accepting renewal applications by mail on December 1 and would open the counters at Sacramento and all branch offices on January 2.

Bevans explained most of the owners of motor vehicles will have applied for and received their 1934 plates long before the new law is effective. The only ones likely to be affected are truck owners who do not seek registration ordinarily until later in the year.

Registration cards received after March 5 must be endorsed on the opposite side by the city or county assessor or be accompanied by a tax clearance certificate submitted upon an authorized form.

The tax clearance will be required regardless of the fact that the vehicle may be an old model upon which the assessor places no assessed valuation.

It will be required also if because of exemption of the individual or any other reason no tax is assessed or paid upon the vehicle. This last explanation was made particularly for the information of war veterans who are entitled to a tax exemption on personal and real property in California up to $1,000.

Jr. Collegians Held For Painting 'Spree'

SAN MATEO, Nov. 14.—Four Menlo Junior College students were halted by police early today while fleeing from the San Mateo Junior College where large blue "M's" had been painted on sidewalks and steps of the rival school.

Also across the steps of the San Mateo school was the name "Menlo." The visit to the rival campus is explained by the fact that Menlo meets San Mateo in the peninsula junior college "big game" next Saturday.

Those held were George Bachman, Jack Tucker, William Nottmeyer and Harry Laughlin. They were cited to appear before Police Chief Thomas Burke this afternoon.

Compromise in Harry Fee Est. Case Approved

Compromise of the litigation over the estimated $50,000 estate of Harry Fee, late Atherton realty man, which was settled by Miss Alice Lynch of Atherton, Fee's housekeeper and business partner, was approved by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt today. Heirs compromising the claim are nephews and nieces.

Under the compromise Miss Lynch will take one-fourth of the estate instead of one-half. Evidence was introduced by heirs tending to show that Miss Lynch had settled her interests with Fee in 1926 for $150 up to that time. This was sent to the state bureau of identification in Sacramento to establish the handwriting when Miss Lynch denied knowledge of its content.

The report from Clarence Morrill, chief of the bureau, said that in his opinion Fee had written the body of the agreement and Miss Lynch had signed it.

However, the agreement had no further bearing on Miss Lynch's claims when the compromise was reached. Settlement of the litigation followed two days of trial before Superior Judge Franklin Swart some weeks ago.

New Ward Store to Be Open Next Month

Announcement was made today that the new Montgomery Ward & Co. store will be ready for occupancy the first part of next month. This announcement was made at a Pacific Coast managers' meeting held in Oakland yesterday.

It was stated that the company plans to put on double shifts to complete the building by early December.

Attending the meeting from the Redwood City store were D. P. Washburn, manager; C. W. Anderson, assistant manager; O. E. Heath, dry goods department manager, and H. Hendrickson, men's furnishing department manager.

New Divorce Trial Denied Doctor's Wife

Mrs. Nettie B. Thompson of Burlingame, wife of Dr. C. V. Thompson, Burlingame physician and chairman of the board of San Mateo County Supervisors, today had lost her fight for a new trial in her divorce action.

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt, who granted Dr. Thompson a decree several weeks ago, denied the plea for a new trial. The new hearing was asked by Attorneys J. E. McCurdy and George Harris on behalf of Mrs. Thompson, and was opposed by Attorney Norman S. Menifee on Dr. Thompson's behalf.

Mrs. Thompson and Thompson both charged cruelty in their pleas. She was given $60 monthly alimony for one year's period when the doctor won the divorce.

MRS. ALICE POWELL BRIDGE HOSTESS

Mrs. Alice Powell entertained the Hostess Bridge Club at her home, 21 Elwood street, on Monday. High honors went to Mrs. Hattie Bell Taylor and Mrs. Robert Kennedy.

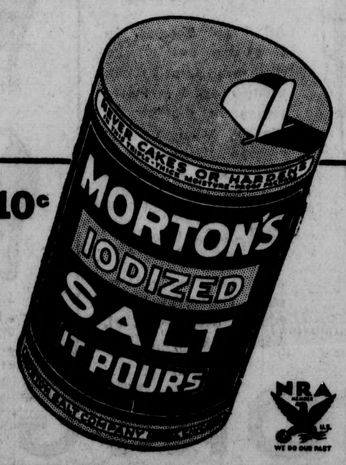
CAUTION!

Some iodized salts don't contain enough iodine to prevent simple goiter. Avoid them by demanding salt with this seal!



ACCEPTED AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. Committee on Foods

Health department tests of iodized salts bought at random from grocers showed some to be so lacking in iodine that they were worthless as goiter preventives (according to Journal of American Medical Association, Dec. 19, 1931.) To make sure of getting a reliable brand, insist on one that bears the Seal of Acceptance of the American Medical Association's Committee on Foods. You'll find this seal on every package of Morton's Iodized Salt, which is proof that it contains sufficient iodine to protect your children from simple goiter and its accompanying physical and mental backwardness!
